Dear Subscriber,

Welcome to Enerpace's March edition of the "PaceSetter"! As always, our goal is to provide links to "news you can use".

March has been a full and exciting month! My interview with NBC aired 3/9, with a very cool and unexpected fringe benefit of reconnecting me with some folks I'd lost touch with - including some I haven't talked to in 25 years! Thank you to everyone who sent kudos and welcome to all our new subscribers!

I also had the opportunity to attend the Athena International Women's Leadership Summit mid-month. Many magnificent speakers opened my eyes to new models of leadership and the unique role of female leaders in addressing our global

Great Books - White Pearl & I: A Memoir of a Political Refuge- Svetlana Kim

I had the great pleasure of meeting Svetlana Kim at the Athena International Leadership Summit in Chicago earlier this month. Her friendly and gracious demeanor entranced me immediately, and when she shared just a few bits of her story, I simply had to learn more.

Arriving from Russia with no knowledge of English and only $1 to her name, Ms. Kim went on to business success in cosmetics and as a stock broker. Yet her story is overlaid with the fascinating history of her family, especially her grandmother White Pearl, who struggled through amazing hardship and setbacks as Koreans in Eastern Russia.

Svetlana's story is an inspiring read and proof that both the kindness of strangers and the American Dream STILL exist! Until the movie version is released, a link to purchase the book is provided below for your convenience.
