May/June 2022: Your Leadership Library

We Grow Agile Leaders Who Grow Purpose-Driven Firms

Hello Subscriber,

Did you miss us last month? Jackie and I were celebrating with graduations and vacations in May, hence this "May/June" edition of our monthly newsletter.

We also took the time to celebrate another May event. Did you know that May is "National Get Caught Reading" month? We at Enerpace did our part by spotlighting the books we most recommend to our clients in the areas of leadership, entrepreneurship, career management and personal development. In case you missed it, we're devoting this issue of our newsletter to the topic.

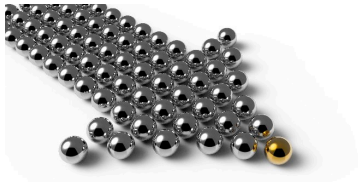

As executive coaches and leadership development experts, folks usually assume that we've read all the books in those categories. That would be a physical impossibility!

Instead, you'll see on our list some "oldies but goodies". Some books, like "What Got You Here Won't Get You There" are still relevant and useful to the folks we work with years later. Others are more recent and provide cool new ways to think about an issue - like the Polarities Book.

Hope you find this list as helpful as our clients do. In fact, consider selecting one for some holiday weekend reading!

Enjoy the 4th -
